NORWAY'S SOLE WINE AND LIQUOR RETAILER LAUNCHES E-PROCUREMENT INITIATIVE USING ADB SYSTEMS
ADB technology will enable retailer to generate purchasing savings

Oslo, Norway – June 3, 2003 – ADB Systems International (TSX: ADY; OTCBB: ADBY), global provider of leading procurement solutions, announced today that it will enable AS Vinmonopolet, Norway's state-owned retailer of wine and liquor products, to integrate web-based procurement and on-line supplier collaboration into its day-to-day operations.

“Following a thorough evaluation of assorted solution providers, we selected ADB because of the deep functionality of its e-procurement solution, its ease of use, and the company's business knowledge,” said Kjersti Salberg, Vice President of Procurement. “We look forward to launching this electronic procurement initiative and facilitating how individual shops can access and purchase non-strategic supplies and consumables. We estimate significant reductions in both direct and in-direct procurement costs.”

Vinmonopolet plans to implement ADB's purchasing solution in all of its 180 retail shops as well as its central procurement department. The retailers will benefit from using pre-negotiated supplier contracts for improved procurement efficiencies and reduced procurement costs. ADB will also enable integration with an existing financial system, providing improved analysis and reporting of financial information. ADB's solution will integrate electronic purchase orders, accessible to the suppliers in real time, integrated goods receiving, and innovative paperless invoice handling capabilities.

Vinmonopolet opens several new outlets every year and views ADB's solution as an important instrument in providing semi-automated setup of these outlets.

“As one of the largest buyers of wine and liquor in the world, Vinmonopolet's retail operations are significant,” said Jeff Lymburner, CEO of ADB Systems. “Adding Vinmonopolet to our growing roster of blue-chip customers is a testament to the strength of our technology.”
