ADB SIGNS CUSTOMER AGREEMENT

Energy services company to use ADB's asset management capabilities

Toronto, ON – September 27, 2005 – ADB Systems International (TSX: ADY; OTCBB: ADBYF), a global provider of asset lifecycle management solutions, announced today that it has entered into a customer agreement with Grenland MMO, the maintenance, modification and operations division of the Grenland Group, a full-service provider of engineering, procurement and construction services to the oil and gas industry. Grenland will deploy ADB's technology to introduce new efficiencies to its materials management, electronic procurement and project management activities.

“ADB's proven experience in the North Sea combined with their integrated project management capabilities were determining factors in our selection process,” said, Njål Selsvik, BU Manager of Grenland MMO. “Using ADB's technology, we will be able to reduce purchasing costs and better manage our inventory of supplies.”

ADB provides an integrated suite of technology solutions that allow organizations to improve their asset management activities. ADB's customized solutions for the oil and gas industry integrate capabilities for maintenance scheduling, electronic procurement, materials management, materials transfer and project management. ADB's existing oil and gas customers include BP, Talisman Energy, Paramount Resources and Trilogy Energy Trust.

“In today's business environment, energy companies and their team of key suppliers require access to reliable asset data,” said Jeff Lymburner, CEO of ADB Systems. “Through our suite of integrated solutions, we help these organizations gain a better understanding of asset performance, introduce new asset management efficiencies and reduce operational costs.”
