ADB SYSTEMS PROVIDES CORPORATE ACTIVITY UPDATE
Makes board change; extends customer relationships; enhances technology applications

Toronto, ON – October 3, 2005 – ADB Systems International (TSX: ADY; OTCBB: ADBYF), a global provider of asset lifecycle management solutions, today provided an activity update on recent operational, customer, and technology development activities.

Board Change

ADB announced that Jan Pedersen has resigned from the Company's Board of Directors effective September 30, to devote more attention to and focus on operational activities of its Norwegian business unit. Mr. Pedersen remains an active member of ADB's management team and the senior executive for the Company's Norway business unit, which has enjoyed a number of successes in recent months.

Customer Activities

The Company also announced that it continues to advance its customer-related activities.

"Recent efforts have resulted in new customer wins with organizations such as Star Energy, a number of customized application development projects for BP, GE and Paramount Resources, and the expanded use of our technology within the National Health Service as evidenced by the deployment of our procurement capabilities within the Sandwell PCT, Luton and Dunstable trusts within the last few weeks," said Jeff Lymburner, CEO of ADB Systems.

As part of these customer efforts, ADB also announced that it has extended the terms of a customer agreement with the State of Tennessee, which has used ADB's asset management technology for more than 10 years.

Technology Enhancements

The Company also announced that it is proceeding on schedule with the next major release of ProcureMate, ADB's electronic procurement application.

"We have devoted considerable resources and efforts to ensuring that our procurement technology stays at the leading edge," Mr. Lymburner said "We believe the latest enhancements will allow us to tap into a market of organizations looking for greater cost savings and improved efficiencies from their purchasing activities."

ADB provides activity update/2

Currently in testing, ProcureMate's significant new enhancements will make it easier than ever for organizations to automate the purchasing lifecycle and managed associated costs.

The new release is architected on the Microsoft .net platform and is fully integrated with ADB's Workmate asset management suite. Vesta, Vinmonopolet and the NHS are among the organizations that have previously deployed and benefited from ADB's electronic procurement capabilities.
